KODAK SAFETY FILM

"Good morning!"

"Let's go fly a kite."

"Sounds good. Do you have one?"

"No. I thought you had one."

"I've got a kite if you have a ladder."

"Sure. I've got one in my back pocket. Why?"

"My kite's up a tree."

"Oh. Well, let's watch a rehearsal."

"Of what?"

"I don't know. They must be rehearsing some show."

"No, let's do something else. I don't want to ruin the surprise."

"You're right. If they're gonna spend all that time rehearsing a show, the least we can do is be surprised. We certainly were by the last one."

"Then let's go paint a picture."

"But I can't paint."

"You can fingerpaint."

"Oh yeah I love to fingerpaint."

"Then we can go to the zoo or wash my car or—"

"I know! We could deliver bread to the south side settlement houses. We don't have to stay at school all day. There's THINGS TO DO other places."

"And we could come back here tomorrow."

"One day older . . ."

"And one day wiser."

"Did you go trick-or-treating this FALL?"
"No. Did you?"
"No. My mother thinks I'm too old. Doesn't that make you sick?"
" . . . to go forward as a spiritual man it is necessary first to go back."
"Says who?"
"Theodore Roethke," "Tell him to go talk to my mother."

Jeannie Osterman

Caryl Dillon

"Did ya see the sophomores walking around with their thumbs in the air?"
"No but you got to hand it to 'em-they took all four places in the HOMECOMING window contest."
"But the juniors took the float."
"And the law almost took away our bonfire."
"Seems almost everyone took something."

Marcia Dartt, Sophomore attendant

Mimi Moate, Junior attendant

Gayle Lindemann, Senior attendant

"Can you say it?"
"Say what?"
"STUNTS. Can you say it?"
"Yeah. Stunts!"
"Not that, idiot. The name!"
"No."
"I can. 'That which I should have done which I never got around to doing but that I would still like to do someday except I probably won't have time to do it so I guess I'll never get it done.'"
"I'm impressed."

"Oh BRAVE NEW WORLD that has such people in it!"

Jan Zarish, Cindy Martin.

"You'll never believe what we did yesterday."

"Try me."

"Well, we were driving along and it was so beautiful that we decided to go to the beach."

"Go to the beach in the middle of SPRING?"

"Yeah. It's almost as neat as going in the middle of winter."

"Doesn't the wind sound neat?"

"Yeah. I love the wind."

"You can't feel the wind blow inside a school."

"No. You have to wait until you're out to feel it."

"When we're gone—I mean out of school—do you think we'll be able to feel it—the wind and the rain?"

"If the wind is blowing or if it's raining."

"No, really. What if we graduated and it didn't rain anymore. What if the wind were to stop blowing?"

"Come on, be serious."

"I mean it. What if the earth were to suddenly reach a point in evolution where it stopped?"

"Then I guess we won't feel the rain or the wind. So what?"

"But then we've blown the whole thing. We sat inside and looked at books and listened to lectures while all that was happening outside."

"But that's not going to happen so it doesn't make any difference."

"You don't understand. We've been sitting inside cutting out paper dolls while the world was going by outside. Come on. I'm going to play in the rain."

"You're crazy! You're completely bananas!"

"Let's go. We've got other THINGS TO LEARN."

"I'll stick to my books."

"Read them outside."

"They'll get wet."

"Put them in plastic bags."

"Promise they won't get ruined?"

"All the really good books last forever. Come on. Let's read in the rain."

"Let's do something."
"What."
"Something."
"I don't want to."
"Well let's do something else then."
"Like what?"
"I don't know. What can we do?"
"Got any suggestions?"
"We could uh . . ."
"No let's not."
"All right. How about . . ."
"No forget it! I know!"
"We did that yesterday."
"Oh yeah. I forgot."
"This place is so boring."
"Yeah. We've got to come up with something."
"What."
"Good question."
"We're not getting anywhere."
"What else is new?"
"Felix's mommy had another baby."
"Come on, dammit, stick to the subject."
"You're right. I'm sorry."
"No. I'm sorry."
"Aw, you shouldn't take it so hard."
"Thank you. I really appreciate it."
"You're a good person to have as a friend."
"Thank you. So are you."
"I know."
"What are we going to do? You'd think a place like this would have some things to do."
"You would, wouldn't you."
"Well . . . Let's go find some."
"How much did it weigh?"
"What?"
"The baby."
"Let's do something."
"Yeah. I suppose we should."
"Seven pounds, eight ounces."
"Not bad."
"Hey, let's find some THINGS TO SHARE."
"OK."

80 Student Council

"STUDENT COUNCIL doesn't do anything."

"Do you walk in the halls without a pass?"

"Yeah."

"Did you hear about the Neediest Children's Christmas Fund?"

"Yeah, but . . ."

"Do you go to a Free School?"

"Yeah."

"I thought you said council didn't do anything."

"Hey! Look what I got!"

"Wow! What ya gonna do with it?"

"Take it outside. Want to come?"

"Yeah. Can I bring a friend?"

"Bring two."

"What are we going to play?"

"A game."

"But what game?"

"Oh, there's a lot of GAMES TO PLAY."

"Well, what are the rules?"

"There are only a few. You got to be brave."

"And . . .?"

"And pretty strong."

"And . . .?"

"And get up whenever you fall down and keep going."

"Do I have to be mean?"

"Oh, no. Not mean. But you do have to be tough."

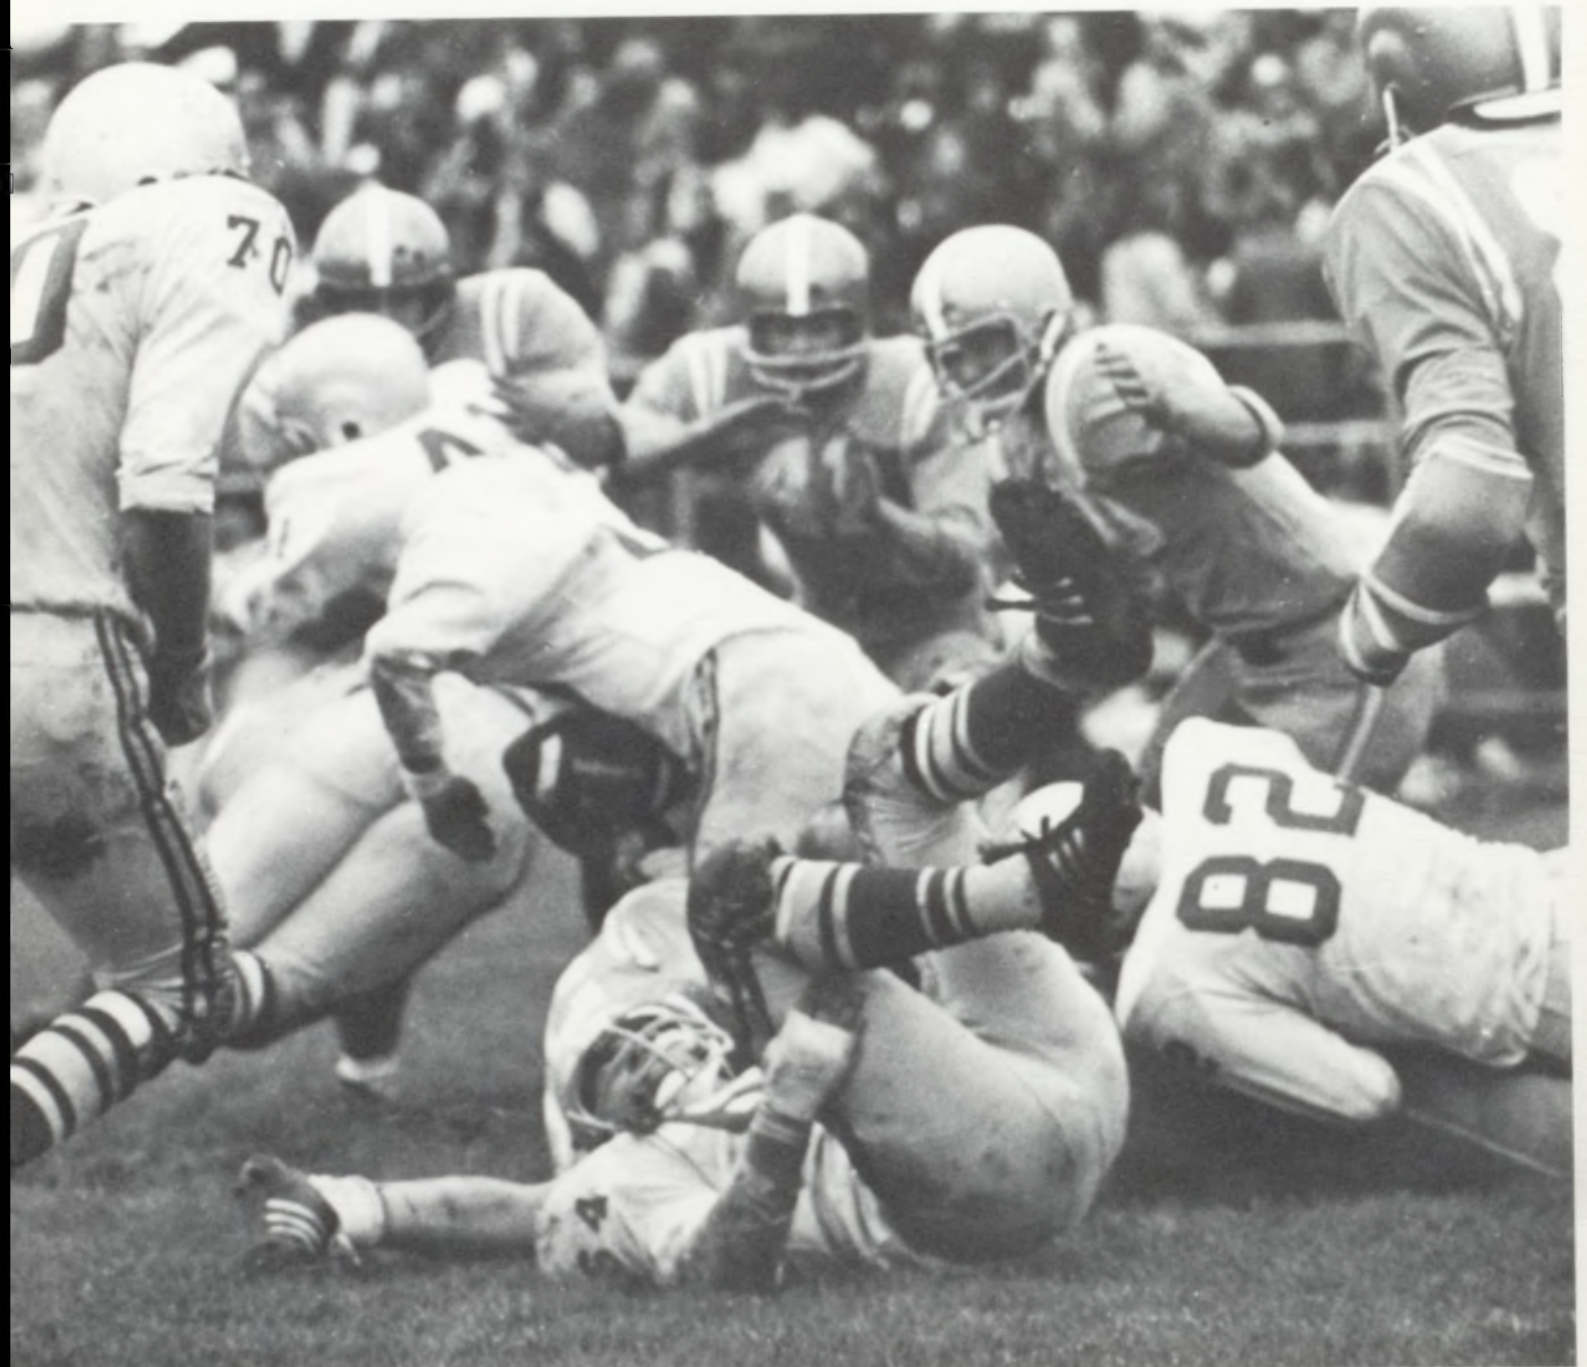

"OK. I think I got it."

"Better watch out or you'll get it in the face . . . Catch!"

"Seems the FOOTBALL team fell short of its goal this season."

"What do you mean? The freshmen and sophomores were conference champs and four varsity players made all conference.
Pretty good for a losing season."

"Yeah, well we try harder."

"You know, when I look back on it, we all had one thing in common. I mean no matter to whom we turned or what we tried to do there was always the same basic reasoning behind it."

"Which was?"

"Happiness—we were all looking for happiness in some form or another. Some within, some without, some beyond—and all the time it was there for the finding."

"I don't know. I'm pretty glad it's over. And what about all the tears shed along the way?"

"The tears only served to make the ups seem upper."

"And in turn, the downs downer."

"You're quite a pessimist."

"Not really. It works both ways.

Besides, where do you find happiness?"

"God, are you unimaginative. Think of the PEOPLE that did things, the people that shared, the people who took special pride in learning, the people who cared for playing the games—each received the satisfaction of achievement and that's a helluva good start."

"I still say I'll be glad to leave."

"Who won't? But in time even the bad memories will become good ones."

"I said get out of your grave
Everybody is dancing in the street
Do what you know don't be slow
You gotta practice what you preach Cause it's time for you and me come to face reality."

Jimi Hendrix
August 1970.
