Illusions at DHS

The excitement and enthusiasm was shared by all, as over 150 students presented Illusions - STUNTS '85. This year's student run production was one of the best ever, drawing the largest audience in STUNTS history.

Under the direction of Michael Lazar and Laura Myers, STUNTS cast and crew members worked hard to bring together the most ambitious student production ever. Production crew members included Tech. Director- Steve Salm, Choreographer- Laura Mandel, Comedy Director- Jonny Suttin, Stage Manager- Jason Peak, Business Manager- David Rosenberg, and Publicity Assistant- Marie Faro.

Individual student acts remained the highlight of this year's show, which included performances by Craig Leva, Vickie Mishoulam, Matt Rogers, Chrissy Leveaux, Kieth Kousins, Larry Finer, and many more. And who could forget the 75 Senior Girls performing "Jungle Love," as choreographed by Emmy Blume and Anny Deliyannis.

STUNTS '85 was a huge success due to the dedication and effort of all the students involved. The show was entertaining, but more importantly provided lasting memories of the fun and excitement which represented this year's show.

Glory Day's Spirit

When a DHS student thinks about the Homecoming Pep Rally, a few of the following expectations come to mind: Excitement, energy, competition, and recognition. As Becki Morrison and Mark Perin M.C.'d the Pep Rally, the students let their school spirit show in anticipation of the fantastic Homecoming Weekend to follow.

As each class entered, and the Warrior Fight Song was played, it was apparent the evening was off and running to a spirited start. Each class' theme was evident with the decorations and costumes: Fighting Frosh, Surfin' Sophomores, Junior Jailhouse Rock, and Senior Animal House.

Guest speaker Kieth Moreland of the Chicago Cubs helped start the cheering. He was followed by John Sweeny, a DHS graduate, who told of his Homecoming memories. Following these speakers, the entire school participated in a performance of the Leva Rap from STUNTS. Announcements of class yellers and window painting contest winners immediately followed. The finale included the announcement of Homecoming King Bubba Mathews and Queen Katie McHugh, as well as the Senior Spirit Jug victory.

As the evening closed, the students' minds were filled with anticipation of what was yet to come during these Glory Days.

Day Of The Warriors

Homecoming '85-Glory Days was a great success. Chairperson Amy Goberville, with the help of her committee and Student Council, put together a very fun and eventful weekend. This year Homecoming programs were distributed, informing the students of all of the festivities and games. Of course, no Homecoming is complete without the Powder Puff game. Even though it was rained out the first time, the girls got their chance to show what they could do the following week. Friday night, the Pep Rally was very spirited with Becki Morison and Mark Perin as the M.C.'s. The crowd became even more excited with the appearances of Cubs' player Keith Moreland and ex-Deerfield football star, John Sweeney. The parade the next morning was spirited, and the Sophomores captured the title of "the best float." This Homecoming was no different from many before it when our Warriors won the Varsity football game against the Waukegan East Bulldogs. Both Pom-pon and the band performed well to a standing room only crowd made up of students, parents, teachers, and alumni. Later on in the evening, the "Enchantment Under the Sea" Dance took place. The theme was borrowed from the smash movie, "Back to the Future." And so, that was Homecoming '85-a very enjoyable weekend, memorable for years to come.

Tough Tackling

After weeks of anticipation, the "Senior Women" got the chance to prove how tough they were during the annual Powderpuff Game. Seven Senior teams and eight Junior teams competed on the field, where the hard work and long practices led the Seniors to victory with a score of 20 to 6. The referees, coaches, and the announcer, Ron Abrams, put much time and effort into helping the teams.

The Juniors managed to score only one touchdown. As one Senior said, "If you've got it, you've got it . . . if you don't you don't!" The Senior Women definitely had it for their second year in the Powder puff Game.

The Warriors made the Homecoming Game as memorable as the Homecoming evening by plastering the Waukegan East Bulldogs 42-7. The offense played like a well oiled machine gaining 385 yards. Both Packy Jones and Phil Marks displayed their expertise at the quarter back position. The defense also played tough limiting the Bulldogs to 107 yards. The team played the Homecoming Game with their hearts. Coach Paul Adams taught the Warriors to play clean, hardnose football with reckless abandon, which is what the team did on Homecoming.

Strike Up The Band

This year's Homecoming Dance proved to be one of the best dances in DHS history. The theme of the dance, "Enchantment Under the Sea," lent itself to many cute decorations. Since the Varsity Warriors creamed the Bulldogs, everyone's spirits were soaring. Everyone danced to the music of "On Stage" which was one of the best bands DHS has ever had at a homecoming dance. The dance ended the fun-filled week of the Homecoming festivities. This year's Homecoming Dance was the perfect ending to a most exciting weekend.

There definitely was "glory" when the floats came down Waukegan Road during the parade. The judging took place at Kipling School where the Sophomores took first, followed closely by the Seniors, who proudly carried their Spirit Jug. The Pom Pon girls did their annual "Stripper" routine in the center of town. The Art Club preceded with their cleverly painted car which depicted Warrior spirit. The Guard Float followed the convertibles with the attendants and their escorts and the King and Queen. The parade was a big success for all who participated in the continuation of this "Glory Days" spirit.

Man Versus Supernatural

This year, the DHS theater department opened its season with the modern drama "JB." This Pulitzer Prize-winning play, written by Archibald Macleish, is an up-to-date version of the Book of Job from the Old Testament. It was directed by the new drama teacher Scott Denier, along with his co-director, Senior Marie Faro.

The action, which is set amidst the foundations of a worn-out traveling circus, centers around an argument between God and Satan, played by Katherine Stone and Vickie Mishoulam. Satan believes that taking away all of Job's wealth, land and family will cause him to curse God, but God disagrees. As a result of the quarrel, JB, portrayed by Matt Rogers, faces many terrible hardships that try his faith. After the loss of his children, his land and an all-out nuclear holocaust, JB's wife Sarah, played by Laura Myers, pleads with him to curse God.

In a series of powerful scenes, JB must decide whether to keep his faith in God or curse Him for allowing such terrible things to happen.

In the end, JB decides neither to curse God nor praise Him for His doing. The hard work of the cast and crew brought, once again, a spectacular performance to the Deerfield Stage.

So What Happened?

Fall '85 proved to be a season to remember. One of the first activities was the Kick-Off Dance sponsored by Student Council. Despite the steamy temperatures inside and out, it was an evening filled with fun, lots of dancing, and music.

At Open House parents scurried around the halls in a frenzy trying to find their classrooms and avoid a tardy slip. Halloween was a fun time, with many students dressing for the occasion and lunch table parties and decorations.

After years of service, custodian and friend George Wallace retired. George was well known for his singing and dancing in the halls.

We were honored to have the President of the United States land at Deerfield High School. Preparation was extensive. The Secret Service men imposed stringent security on the school grounds, 250 Marines were camouflaged in the woods, and S.W.A.T. teams were on duty to insure the safety of the President.

After his helicopter landed, the President waved and gave a short speech wishing the Warriors a Homecoming victory.

Superbowl Champs

Who would have believed back in September that four months later the Chicago Bears would be the Superbowl champions? Although a solid club, the Bears suffered miserably through a 1-3 pre-season record. However, the Bears came out of the real season starting block storming. Characters such as Quarterback Jim McMahon, known for his variety of headbands in each game, and William Perry, or "The Refrigerator," won the hearts of everyone nationwide. And Walter Payton again played beautifully throughout the entire season, earning the nickname of "Sweetness." The Bears completed the season with a record of 15-1 and then moved on to the playoffs. The combination of a strong offense and the "Blues Brothers" defense wiped out the other qualifying teams, and the Bears made it to the Superbowl! The Bears then gave the final push as they defeated the New England Patriots 46-10 and became the world champs.

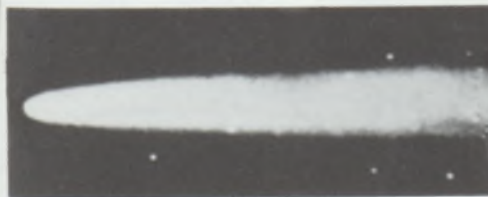

South Africa

During 1985, the White minority saw the emergence of Black Nationalism. The black majority in South Africa demanded equal rights, equal voice in government and the economic control of South Africa. The white minority resisted this Nationalistic attempt and restored to the use of police and military support to control the blacks. This led to increased rioting and resentment on the part of blacks, and the situation deteriorated into a state of almost civil war.

AIDS

The newest disease to sweep across the United States was Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, better known as AIDS. First identified in 1981, many feared that this disease would reach epidemic proportions. More than 12,000 cases were identified before the end of 1985, and that number was expected to at least double in 1986. The AIDS problem, believed to have originated long ago in Central Africa and spread to the Caribbean, then the U.S., was brought home for many who were previously unaffected with the disclosure that the Hollywood star, Rock Hudson, was very ill and dying from AIDS. Many people, including the Hollywood celebrity community, were horrified to find out that such a big star who had played the handsome hero in numerous movies was now revealing that he had been struck by AIDS. America did not turn its back on AIDS victims, however, At a charity show organized to benefit AIDS research, many celebrities performed and the event was a success.

Dotson Case

In the early Spring of 1985, Cathleen Crowell Webb, a born-again Christian inspired by her pastor, wrote an attorney asking him to help her free the man she had had falsely imprisoned on charges of rape.

Dotson's lawyer filed a motion to have Dotson's conviction of rape nullified and to have a new trial declared.

After Webb went to the media to continue the fight, the real circus began. Governor James Thompson did something highly unusual for these situations by presiding over Dotson's clemency hearing, which was commonly handled by the prison review board.

Terrorism

Terrorism took a toll on the United States during the past year. Countries opposing the U.S. and its allies took violent actions to gain attention. The TWA hostage crisis occurred on June 14, when a TWA jetliner was hijacked in Beirut by the Shiites. Americans were held hostage and one passenger in the Armed Services was killed. Thankfully, the hostages were freed, with no more deaths.

Palestinian terrorists hijacked an Italian cruise ship, the Achille Lauro, on October 7, off the coast of Egypt. Leon Klinghoffer was shot in the back of the head and pushed overboard. Luckily, no other Americans were killed. On October 10, the hostages were released.

The most violent terrorist slaughter occurred on December 27, when 18 people were killed and 111 wounded as the Alre Nidal terrorist group attacked the El Al check-in counters in Vienna and Rome.

World Hunger

1985 will be remembered as a year of wide-spread concern for world hunger. The world of music displayed a particular concern toward the extensive famine. The Live Aid Foundation was one relief group in which musical talents of all types devoted many hours to raising money to send to Africa. Similarly, USA for Africa, Hands Across America, England's Band Aid, and many others all worked for the same cause.

The concern for international famine shed light on internal problems, too. Americans wished to relieve national poverty as well as international. Groups like Farm Aid were formed as relief for Americans.

These organizations put the media spot light on world hunger. As a result, not only were supplies sent to Africa, but the issue of famine was kept before the public.

Halley's Comet

Halley's comet was in the earth's neighborhood for a couple of months in 1985 before it treked back toward the outer planets for another 76 years. The comet was basically just a huge, dirty ice ball in space. Halley's comet was a spectacular sight for all those who were able to catch a glimpse.

Geneva Summit

At the end of November 1985, President Reagan and Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev met in Geneva for the first time. At this monumental meeting, the two world leaders spent a total of five hours together. They discussed, among other things, nuclear war, terrorism, human rights, and Reagan's acting career. The result? In an unprecedented leap of faith, Gorbachev agreed to allow the Bolshoi Ballet to visit the U.S., while Reagan agreed to re-establish airline service to the U.S.S.R. They also agreed to get together here in 1986, possibly to work on the distribution of Bedtime for Bonzo in the U.S.S.R., in exchange for fashion tips from Mrs. Reagan. On other issues, both refused to ever consider compromise.

Dynamic Dancing

Pirouettes, leaps and shuffle-hop-steps were what the 28 member Dance Club perfected for their 1986 Dance Show, "Can't Stop Dancin'." Under the direction of President Laura Mandel, Vice-president Laura Myers, Secretary Julie Karel and Sponsor Mrs. Gasper, the club spent four months preparing for their show. The show included ballet, tap, modern, jazz, and character dances to music of all sorts.

The show's 15 dances were choreographed by the members of the club. Dances included a "Boogie Woogie" tap number, "Ease on Down" version of "The Wizard of Oz", and an exciting solo by Laura Mandel.

Special effects of silhouette and strobe lighting added pizzazz to the dances "Energy" and "Why?", while creative costumes added even more variety to the show.

Comical skits were presented in between the dances by emcees Larry Finer, Keith Kousins, Craig Leva, Michael Lazar and Jonny Suttin. Their renditions of "The Dating Game" and "Cliff's Notes" kept the audience laughing all night. Steve Salm provided the technical essentials for the stage, such as music, lighting, and sound. Overall, the members of Dance Club 1986 showed that hard work and dedication brings about very worthwhile rewards.

All Aboard Turn-A-Boat

Turnabout 1986 was a very festive night! The theme was "Come Cruise on Turn-a-boat," and the entire decor of the dance related to a cruise. The 1986 Gima Board worked hard to create that "boaty" atmosphere. The dance began at 7:30 and lasted until 10:30; it got an early start this year in order to allow more time after the dance for dinner and parties. The band "Surrender" got everyone on their feet to boogie down!!

The normal routine for most couples started with a casual get together before the dance, followed a few hours at the dance and then off to dinner. The traditional Senior bus arrived as usual to pick up couples from the dance along with many limousines and mini-buses. Popular spots were Windows, Sages, Como Inn and other elegant restaurants on the North Shore or in Chicago.

The crowning of the 1986 Turnabout King and Queen was a definite highlight of the dance. After all the votes were tallied, Mike Morrison was crowned "Captain" and Emmy Blume as his "1st Mate." The dance was a lot of fun for all students and guests. And as expected, the girls took the guys for a whirl and really showed them how to have fun!

A fantastic rumor swept the halls of DHS early in the school year. "Grease" was being considered for the spring musical. A rush of excitement took over everyone, not just the usual actors and actresses. When this rumor was confirmed, try-outs for major and minor roles were awaited. Over one hundred students auditioned for the musical, and a final cast of over sixty students were chosen.

"Grease" was under the leadership of Director Scott DeNier, who was anxious to portray the era of "hula-hoops, fins on cars, and bakeoffs" through a musical. The cast starred Laura Myers and Steve Lencioni, Sandy and Danny, who were backed up by other very strong performers. Highlights of the musical were "Hand Jive", sung by Larry Finer, "Beauty School Drop-Out", sung by Michael Lazar, and "Greased Lightning", starring Keith Kousins.

Many other contributions were made to the musical to make it so spectacular. The combination band not only provided excellent music, but also added to the fifties atmosphere. The realistic set at the "Burger Palace" made the musical even more fun.

As Director Scott DeNier commented, "Grease" celebrates the moments of the fifties. A moment that in many ways resembles our eighties of today." Maybe this was the key to the great success of the musical at DHS.

We Are The World

Once every year, in the middle of the winter doldrums, Deerfield High School students are drawn to the array of sights, sounds, and tastes known as Ethnocenter. Everyone becomes culturally illuminated through a cafeteria, the "Ethnocenter," for a day. Very simply, Ethnocenter is an arrangement of displays which are intended to present realistic portrayals of various countries through the use of maps, artifacts, food, and music. Ethnocenter is also a unique Deerfield High School tradition which was carried out with great success in 1986. A great variety of countries were represented, some of which included Greece, Poland, England, Thailand and Australia. Italy too, could not be forgotten as the familiar presence of Mr. Gulotta and his Italian entourage served platefuls of hot pasta which were voraciously devoured by the hungry lunchtime hordes. However, more than just a food sampling trial or a "battle of the ghetto blasters," as one student stated, Ethnocenter was exceptionally well planned and authentically presented. The coordinators, Mr. Schultz and Mrs. Anderson, felt the students had done an excellent job in portraying the various representative countries. Ethnocenter was more than just a day of fun, it was a day that allowed the students to explore the cultures of the different countries in our growing world.

Painting . . . By Numbers

Isosceles triangles, sines, and cosines swim before your eyes when taking part in the Math Department. This year, an interesting figure in the Math department was Dr. Woodward. Although he is our principal, he also taught an Advanced Algebra class which, as he put it, "satisfies his passion for teaching." The new additions of Mr. Bolek and Mr. Fitzgerald added variety to the staff, and as usual the veteran staff provided many ways of presenting topics. Once again this year, the Math Resource Center was available for students who needed help on homework assignments. The staff members who were in the center were always very helpful and informative. Another interesting aspect of the Math Department was the addition of Mathletes. These students practiced every week after school in order to compete in large competitions. They won awards and made Deerfield proud to have them as representatives. All students must take at least two years of math in order to fill the graduation requirements. The math classes available at DHS provide the excellent background many different careers require.

Experimenting With Pizazz

"In the science department, we plunge into the unknown and hope to stay afloat," Mr. Malek observed. Well, whether it is Biology, Chemistry, or Physics, the science department has it all. In Biology, students were welcomed to observe fruit flies and their genetics, examine elodeas, and test their hands at dissecting a fertile pig. Chemistry brought the always enjoyable spot plates, bunsen burners, and the great fear of hydrochloric acid. Physics students sat in confusion as waves, projectiles, and vectors passed before their very eyes. Psychology proved to be a little less mind boggling as classes explored the inner emotions behind all of us. "I thought I would detest double lab," exclaimed an innocent Freshman, "but somehow we always managed to keep ourselves very busy!" This year a new program has begun in the science department, the High Tech Club. Although this club is just beginning, it promises to show some great accomplishments. Other interesting courses that can be used to fill graduation requirements at DHS include Anatomy and Physiology, where students study the human skeleton and the effects of exercise on the heart and respiratory rate. Microbiology is also an interesting variation from the regular science schedule.

Crime And Punishment

Reading Of Mice and Men, making that first speech, writing the dreaded term paper we often thought we would drown in the midst of these challenges! Yet, there was always an understanding English teacher to pull us back to the surface. And, as it turns out, next year the English department will have even more to offer. A Great Books class which is based on student-led discussions is in the works, as is a new reading lab. The lab would be available as a drop-in service or for credit. As for the current curriculum, " . . . it was the best of times, it was the worst of times . . ." as freshmen memorized Juliet's soliloquy and discussed The Tale of Two Cities. Sophomores traveled with Odysseus through Othello, studied Greek myths, and in speech class spoke on almost every topic imaginable. The juniors, with SAT's approaching, drilled through vocabulary words in etymology, and in regular English classes became swept up in Huck Finn's adventures. The seniors, along with the infamous term paper, survived The Plague and enjoyed The Great Gatsby. It's obvious that Deerfield High School students are exposed to a wide, interesting variety of ways in which to discover our English language.

Drops Of Culture

"Bonjour", "Hola", "guten Tag" — most people can understand at least one of these greetings, but if you can't you could be depriving yourself of a good experience in education. Dive in and enjoy our foreign language department. This year, the foreign language department had some exciting new improvements. The language lab was completely renovated, and the equipment in the classrooms brought up to date. The main goal for all the teachers was increased student involvement. The students were encouraged to make their own choices, develop skills, and give their input on different activities.

Social studies at DHS provides students with the chance to explore countries all around the world, including their own. In classes such as Economics and Sociology, students were given actual case studies to work on so they could see how the concepts they learned in class apply in the real world. The major event of the social studies department, Ethnocenter, encouraged student participation and active involvement. In satisfying requirements, there are so many interesting courses to choose from that a student could always find one especially appealing. By taking these courses, students were able to better understand the events going on in the world today.

Deerfield

. . . In Motion

"Dive in, the water is warm!" was often the call in gym classes throughout the year. Every student enrolled at DHS participates in some type of class in the Physical Education Department. There is a class that will suit everyone and is a welcome change from classwork and study halls. Students have the freedom of choice in this area, whether it be rappelling and cross country skiing in Outdoor Ed., or training in team and leadership skills in P.E. leaders. Some may opt for early-bird gym class in order to make room for a free period later in the day. Physically restricted students were under the care of Miss Tavernier, our new adaptive gym teacher this year.

Reaching the age of sixteen has a special meaning for most students. It means obtaining licenses and a new independence, after completing a semester of Traffic Safety, which is also in the P.E. department. After much practice, students made it to the streets and highways. After the first few times, the anxiety disappeared and they were experiencing the real thing — Life on the Road!! It was here where all the studying paid off. Experience from the range with parking and turns was very valuable, and the driving situations experienced in the simulators are now real life situations, so be prepared!!!

Creative Pursuits

"I'm singing in the rain!" was often heard down the M-hall corridors. This year the Fine Arts Department had some fine new additions, including Miss Carmon and Mr. Denier. The department was once again strong in all its areas. The acting section had a successful year with the fantastic outcome of J.B., the humorous fall play, Grease, the musical we all loved, and the successful spring play. There were numerous awards for our orchestra members, and the marching band kept our spirits hopping at the football games. The orchestra's performance as well as the performance done by Chorliers for President Reagan was a definite challenge and made everyone at Deerfield High School very proud. There is much to learn in all areas of the Fine Arts Department, whether it be ballet, jazz, or modern in Dance; shading, texture, space, or perspective in Art; or lighting, shutter bugs, or just snapping a picture in Photography. Students can also test their stage skills in drama courses. Whatever the course, students are allowed to fully develop their creativity. All students need to take at least one semester of a fine arts course in order to fill the graduation requirement. All students can find some course especially appealing, whether it be Art History, Chorus or Dance.

The Practical Side

Few departments at DHS offer the diversity of the Applied Arts Department. The main objective of the course is applying what one already knows to use in daily life.

An outstanding part of this department is the child development program. In this course, the students have to deal with children. They learn a lot about themselves as well as preparing themselves for parenthood.

In the business courses, the students are given good background to help them in future careers such as accounting, law, and business. Many skills learned in these courses help outside school. Students are taught how to balance a checkbook, keep a budget, avoid being ripped off, and other helpful skills.

The cooperative work program is another successful part of the Applied Arts Department. The students involved in this program received school credit and have a chance to earn money. Each student must work at least 15 hours each week.

A new part of the business program is Junior Achievement. Each group in JA forms its own company and produces and markets a product. The students learn about the competition in the marketplace as well as many leadership skills.

Applied Arts courses benefit the student for a long time. They are good preparation for business and a challenging break from academic stress.

The Guiding Light

The Guidance Office plunged into the school year with the goal of more effectively helping DHS students. Through a process called collegial supervision, the counselors improved their skills as advisors by working together and observing one another. Although there was no additions to the guidance staff, a new program, Student Outreach Services (SOS), was started. This all-encompassing program unifies activities designed to benefit both high school students and the community at large. Organizations such as early bird tutors, the reaching out program, and various activities to help the elderly all fall within the realm of student outreach services. In addition, the expanded peer guides program, which helps transfer students get along during their first weeks at Deerfield, and the training of Senior aides to the Freshman advisories both are branches of the counseling department.

The Lake County Area Vocational Center is a vocational school situated in Grayslake. LCAVC is designed to provide more than just an education for its students. It also shows them just how fun and interesting many skill areas really are. Those students of DHS who desire to attend classes at LCAVC are transported by bus either in the morning or afternoon. They can participate in such diverse classes as nursing, cosmetology, and environmental control.

Tackling Tough

Under the leadership of three year varsity team members Phil Marks and Bubba Mathews, the Warriors won seven straight games. At the Homecoming game, halfback Jerry Bauler gained 153 yards to help defeat Waukegan East. Then, in the final regular season game, the Warriors were defeated by a tough Glenbrook South team.

The Warriors entered the playoffs with a 7-2 record. In the first round of the playoffs, the Warriors beat a big Zion Benton team. They then faced the passing attack of Antioch. The Warriors played to a 13-13 tie. However, they lost in overtime 20-13. The team had eight All Conference players: Gerry Bauler, Colin Cody, Mike Olson, Gary Tousignant, Bubba Mathews, Bill Kerstein, Phil Marks, and Bill Bertrum.

Powerful Passers

With a winning record, this year's Sophomore football team will be prepared to excel on the varsity level next year. They finished the season at 6-3 and were second in the conference. The highlight of the season was a last minute 60 yard drive in the pouring rain against Glenbrook North to give the Warriors the victory. In the game against Glenbrook South, the Warriors were playing for the conference championship, but they fell short, losing 14-12 to the Titans.

Freshman football was also a credit to Deerfield High School this year. The A team finished first in their conference. With a record of 6 and 2, the Freshman Warriors outscored their opponents in every conference game. Offense and defense were equally tough. The Freshman B team overcame many unfortunate injuries and finished with a 3-4 record.

Smashing Season

At tryouts for the Girls' Tennis team, coaches Geoff Gluck and Louise Ries saw a lot of talent and opportunity for a great season! The season started with a bang as the girls defeated Maine South and Maine East with ease. The first Invitational was a success with Varsity taking home the first place trophy. At the Mount Prospect Invitational, Varsity earned first place and Junior Varsity earned second place. Junior Varsity's season ended well with a second place victory in Conference. However, Varsity won Conference and went on to win Sectionals. From there, four girls advanced to the State Tournament. At singles, Holly Lloyd fought all the way to the top, finishing second in State! Deerfield ended up tied for fifth in the State meet, the conclusion of a successful season for Girls' Tennis.

Running With The Wind

The 1985 Cross-Country team started out slowly by finishing sixteenth in the Proviso West Invitational. However, things picked up for the Warriors when they hosted the twenty-team Lake County Invitational where they placed sixth. The Warriors continued their winning ways by finishing third in the Conference meet, along with Voisard finishing first. At the regionals, Voisard went on to place second, while Mike Freyberg placed eighth, and the team came in an encouraging third. Although the Warriors experienced some trouble at the Sectional meet, they still earned the status of being in the top fifty teams in the state. The Warriors had a great year, and with almost everybody returning, things look great for next year.

Girls Going The Distance

The 1985 Girls' Cross Country team surprised many people with their successful season. Seven Seniors from the team last year graduated, making this year's team primarily rookies. The Junior Varsity team was led by the consistent running of Laura Hagensick, Christine Taylor, and Crissy and Missy Noffke. The Varsity team consisted of Sarah Huck, Heidi Toole, Karen Karnazes, Wendy Toole, Katie Baker, Charlotte Enns, and Katja Stonebraker. This team impressed everyone by taking third place in the Lake County Meet. At Regionals, Deerfield placed first. In this race, with a total of 75 girls running, Deerfield had six runners in the top 15 places. There were 20 teams competing at Sectionals, and Deerfield placed eighth, only three places away from State. With only one Senior graduating, the team is definitely State-bound next year.

Shooting For The Sky

After a disappointing start, the Boy's Varsity Soccer season ended with great success. The team started off with an 0-7-1 record, and from there the team's record skyrocketed to an incredible 8-9-1 recovery. Although they had nine losses, the team became the Central Suburban League Champs. Along with this great feat, six all-conference players were named. These included Cory Isaacson, Paul Isaacson, Todd Bloom, Vince DeLuca, Matt Plofsky, and Tony DeFilippis. Tony was also named an all-sectional and all-state player. This year was a special milestone for Coach Miller as he gained his 100th win. Although eight Warriors will be graduating, a very skilled group of underclassman will be returning next year.

Driving For Success

The Girls' Varsity Golf Team did extremely well for being in only their fourth year. The team consisted of eight players, three of whom were seniors. The small size of the team plus the good humor of Coach Ed Fair created a very close-knit group.

While achieving their low golf scores, all team members scored high in fun and spirit.

The 1985 Varsity Boys' Golf Team had its best season in Deerfield High School history. The Warrior Golfers had an unprecedented 14-0 duel meet record, which was highlighted by defeating State Sectional Champ, Glenbrook South. The team finished fourth in the State Tournament and in the Lake Forest Invitational. Brett Packee, Mark Lancioni, Mike Schiller, and Jeff Fishbein were all-conference golfers.

Flick-Chicks Conquer

As the 1984 season came to a close, it was obvious that the Girls' Field Hockey team had great potential for the following year. This year's team lived up to those expectations and ended their season second in State. The Flick-Chicks went through many interesting events throughout the season; such as Ronald Reagan landing on their field, finding themselves in a double flick-off with State champion, Lake Forest, and beating Homewood Flossmoor in Semi-finals, which had never been done before. The team will remember the team work and determination that went into the season. But most of all, they will remember receiving their medals for second place in State!

All Set For Victory!

The 1985 Girls' Volleyball Team was one of which DHS should be proud. The girls had an outstanding season as they participated in many rigorous tournaments and finished third in their conference. With the help of seniors Christy Campbell, Anastasia Danos, Maria Danos, Louise Garber and Kim Woodward, the Varsity team was victorious as Regional Champions.

Meanwhile the J.V. and Freshman teams worked hard at improving skills. Both teams have very much talent and great potential for very successful seasons in the future.

Two exceptional Seniors, Christy Campbell and Louise Garber, were chosen for the All-Conference Team and later, Christy made the All-Lake County Team with Louise receiving an honorable mention.

The DHS Volleyball Team and coaches are anxiously looking forward to future successful seasons.

Splash Of State

The 1985 season for the Girls' Swim Team is one to remember. Never before has any girls' swim team from D.H.S. been so successful. After two tough losses to Evanston and New Trier, the girls started their winning ways. For most of the team the climax came at the Conference meet where the Warriors were victorious for the first time. Seniors Lynn McBride, Hillary Hageman, and Captain Kathy Frerichs closed out their careers with great time drops! At the Sectional meet, the girls qualified four swimmers for the State Championships: Jennifer Carani, Heather Hageman, Betsy Paletti, and Kris Yaukey. When all of the smoke had cleared, the Warriors had brought home eight medals, two state champions, Coach of the Year honors for Coach Sheri Meyer, and a final placing of second in the state! Next year Coach Meyer hopes to challenge New Trier for the state title.

Smoke On Shooting Stars

Taking one game at a time was the key to this year's girls' basketball success. By the end of the season they had surprised and gained the attention of a lot of people. The team experienced some frustrating losses early in the season to Niles West, Maine West, and Lake Zurich, but they stuck together and came back to take first place in the Mistletoe Tournament. Some highlights of the season included victories over top-ranked Marillac, and Waukegan West. All players contributed in some way to the team's success. Deerfield's leading scorer was Jenny Casey while the inside game was dominated by Kate Poland and Gretchen Motzko. Over all, the season provided the graduating seniors with a myriad of good memories. With several returning varsity players, next year's team has much to look forward to.

Smoke On The Water

Being a member of the '85-'86 swim team required a great deal of dedication and commitment to the sport. All swimmers agreed that the hardest part of the swim season was the early morning practices, beginning at about 6:00. The result of all the hard work was a very successful season and a Conference Championship to top off the season.

The season was a team effort, with spectacular individual performances being turned in by Peter Redondo and Jim Needham. Peter culminated a super season with a fifteenth place in the 100 meter butterfly in the state meet. Jim Needham dove to a ninth place finish in the diving event. Throughout the year, many Freshman swimmers provided solid performances that promise a strong future for the team. Several graduating seniors provided consistent times. Some long-time swimmers included: Dan Levinthal, Jeff Torosian, Eric Nelson, Adam Goldin, Brad Caplan, and Bob Fuhrmann.

Pride In Winning

In only the second time in Deerfield High School history, the Varsity Boys Basketball Team became Conference Champs. The Warriors started the 1985-86 season at the Homewood-Flossmore Thanksgiving Tournament placing third. The Warriors started out the conference schedule by going 8-0. One of the thrillers of the season was beating highly ranked Carmel High School in double overtime. The big clash of the season came between the Warriors and our arch rival, Highland Park. With the lead changing back and forth, Highland Park prevailed, stopping Deerfield's last second victory basket. Pete Sandgren was named all-tournament player at Homewood-Flossmore tournament, and Bill Leslie was all-tournament player at the Wheeling Christmas Tournament, where the Warriors took the consolation title. Tyler Schimanski set school records for assists and for most free throws in a game. The Warrior's season concluded by receiving the number one seed at the Buffalo Grove Regional. Although there will be many Seniors graduating from the team, Deerfield has some strong Underclassmen coming up.

Wrestling Through Adversity

Hard work, dedication, and intensity were some of the key factors involved in Warrior wrestling. This year's team was one of the youngest ever with only a handful of seniors on the squad. The team improved gradually throughout the season, but inexperience hurt them at the dual meets. The team members diligently attended daily workouts that greatly helped their improvement. Many great efforts were put forth by Brian Morris and Matt Ambre. Their outstanding individual performance resulted in a 23-2-1 record for Brian with 10 pins, and a 24-9-1 record with 8 pins for Matt. The wrestlers approached the regionals with a bit of nervousness as they knew that they would be facing more experienced opponents. With this young squad, however, Coach Battista expects many more victories in the years to come.

Tumbling To State

The Deerfield Gymnastics Team had one of their most successful seasons ever. The gymnasts achieved each goal set for them by coach Carol Myers. Capturing the North Suburban Conference Championship, their first main goal, proved to be easy for the talented squad. Not only did the team finish in first place with a 5-0 record, but Deerfield boasted champions in each of the individual events. The Regional championship came soon after as the Warrior gymnasts tumbled past every team. Almost all of the team members qualified individually and advanced on to the Sectional meet. Deerfield was victorious with a school record high of 144.75 points. Laurie Gold captured titles on beam, vault, floor and all-around, as Elyse Cohen placed second on vault and beam, and Maureen Roemer took fifth on bars. The team placed fourth at State along with being Lake County Champions, winners of the Conant and Resurrection Invitationals, and runners-up in the Glenbard North and Niles West Invites.

Facing Off

The 1985-86 varsity hockey season was enjoyable of this year's team. Unlike the past, the team was very young, but was hard working. The Warrior Ice Men did not succeed in the win-loss column, but progressed as a team as the year went on. It was very difficult at times because the varsity had 3 different coaches. The year's captains were Jim Becker and asst. captain Mike Schiller. Two players that were always contributing were seniors Jamie Solem and Mike Schiller. Although the warriors finished their regular season in last place, they showed their will for winning in the playoffs. The DHS hockey organization believes the program is on the up and up, and looks forward to success in the near future. The team would like to thank those loyal fans that came out to all of the games.

Launching Into The Future

The interests of this year's Hi-Tech club changed from computers and ham radios to robotics. The focus was on (digital) electronics, mechanics and other related areas. The members created and built projects, including a computer-controlled robotic arm, which let them experiment a great deal. Most members of the club were new and had many exciting ideas and projects in mind to experiment with in the future.

DASA, the acronym for the Deerfield Aerospace Association, launched the 1985-86 year under the direction of Robert Fountain. The members of DASA built and experimented with small but realistic rockets. On several occasions these rockets were sighted taking off from the DHS football field. Along with the enjoyment of these test flights, the group gained insight into the future world of aviation.

Sensational Services

GIMA, Girls' Interscholastic Intramural Association, under the direction of Ms. Jean Coleman, proved to be one of the great service clubs of the 1985-86 year. GIMA, which sponsors Turnabout each year, put forth much time and effort to present Turnabout '86. All the girls on the board met each Wednesday morning to plan out their future activities. With the money that they earned GIMA made many equipment donations to the PE department.

Guard, sponsored by Mr. Edstrom, provided yet another service for the school. The Homecoming window contest kicked off the Guard season, and as winter approached, the club took on its "normal" duties. Each Saturday morning the members met in the DHS pool to run the junior swim program. Here the Guard members tried to teach young children the finer techniques of swimming.

Wise Guys

Last spring a special faculty committee reviewed applicants for the National Honor Society, and the 1985-86 members were selected. Their decisions were based on school, activities, leadership qualities, community services, and academic record. The spring ceremony was a memorable time for all who were pinned and named official members.

The Spanish Honor Society initiated 25 students into its deserving ranks. Each year, juniors who have proved excellence in their first two years of Spanish are honored by induction into the society. The candle-lit ceremony was led by president, Denise Igolka. Students performed skits, recited poems, and prepared a variety of Spanish delicacies. In addition to the outstanding Spanish students at DHS, the exceptional French students were commemorated by membership to the French Honor Society. All three honor societies helped recognize the academic excellence of the students at DHS.

Speaking With Style

The 1985-86 DHS Forensics team continued its winning tradition which had been established over the past several years. The team placed in each one of the ten tournaments they attended. The 28 person team rose early every Saturday morning to participate in 12 events. After attending the IHSA Regional tournament and advancing 10 of 12 Deerfield entries to Sectionals, 3 DHS students qualified for the State tournament in Bloomington. Due to growing team membership and an outstanding freshman turnout, the DHS Forensics team expects even greater seasons in the future.

This year's Student Congress spent the school year debating bills and discussing major issues. Led by Edith Miller, the team travelled to neighboring schools in which they proudly represented DHS. The political experience and knowledge gained by its participants will definitely be beneficial to all members in years to come.

A Meeting Of Minds

Mathletes really do count! Although it was only their second year, the club moved right into the mainstream of events. They met every week with their teachers to prepare for different exam competitions. The contest levels consisted of Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior and orals. Every month they met with the North Suburban Math League and participated in tests given by the Illinois Math League and the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

M.U.N. — what's that? Is it a new rock group, a new fashion, a new game? No, M.U.N. is the abbreviation for Model United Nations, a club in which the participants not only have a good time but also study about problems in the world. Delegates, who represent particular countries, learn about the relationships between nations. This year M.U.N. attended three conferences: in Palatine, Lake Geneva, and Boston.

Expressing Artistic Talents

The 1985-86 year marked the second year for the Art Club. The Art Club represents the artistic talents of DHS and gives the students the opportunity to show off their creativity. Art Club projects include designing and painting wall murals, trips to the Art Institute, various art gallery openings, and Homecoming. Many Art Club masterpieces could be seen in DHS and throughout Deerfield during the week of Homecoming. Another artistic outlet at DHS was the Dance Club. The 1985-86 club performed jazz, tap, ballet, character, and even aerobic routines. "Can't Stop Dancing" was the title for this year's dance show. With tremendous talent and many hours of practice, the dance show was a tremendous success. Under the leadership of Mrs. Gasper and Laura Mandel, the enthusiasm of the girls' produced a spectacular show.

Planning And Recording

1985-86 was yet another productive year for the Student Council. The many successful events included: the Kick-Off Dance, the blooddrive, and the many exciting activities of Glory Days '85. Also, School Chest raised funds for a special charity. New leadership was provided by Ms. Garland and Ms. Penwell as advisors, and in October the regular Freshmen elections added many new faces to the group.

Deadlines, deadlines, and more deadlines, is what life revolved around for this year's O*YAD staff. This year's members could be found congregating in I-109 from September to June. Whether it was taking pictures, drawing layouts, or writing copy, the hectic afternoons and evenings produced a real sense of accomplishment in the staff. The hard work and effort were rewarded with a yearbook packed with high school memories.

In A Literary Sense

Two of Deerfield's main publications are Deerprints and Troubadour. Deerprints is the newspaper branch. It is published bi-weekly and its staff is composed entirely of students. All the steps to producing the paper are done by the staff of editors, each of which is in charge of their own page. Each editor follows his page through the planning, laying out, and finally the paste-up stages. The end product was an informative paper enjoyed by all.

Troubadour, unlike Deerprints, is issued only once a year. It is an art and literary magazine prepared to showcase the talents of the DHS students. The magazine consists of entirely original work that is submitted to the Troubadour staff for review throughout the year. The staff met regularly to select the finest submissions and once the most outstanding pieces were chosen, they were presented for all to enjoy.

Music Makes 'Em Move

Excitement mounted when the Marching Warriors started the 1985-86 season under the leadership of Al Spriester and drum majors Joe Schwarz and Bart Spriester. Football half and pregame performances, the Homecoming Parade, the band's 1st place in the Sycamore Pumpkin Parade, their Christmas march down Michigan Ave., and the St. Patrick's Day parade all added to the band's fun and successful season. In addition, the band had the honor of playing for the President at Sara Lee. In the winter months the band switched gears, becoming Concert Band. They performed a wide variety of musical styles and arrangements. Pep Band, which performed at all home basketball games, provided music for warrior victories. The three bands gave the students the opportunity to meet new people, improve their music skills, and have lots of fun, too.

Performing With Flair

The answer to the Renaissance was seen in DHS's own Madrigal Singers. Performing in their traditional Renaissance costumes, the group sang numerous ballads in English, Latin, German, and Italian. Unlike most other choral groups at DHS, the Madrigal Singers sing with no accompaniment. With pitch pipe in hand, the sound of the ten harmonious voices sang songs that enlightened the listeners. The repertoire, costumes, and singing style enabled the Renaissance to continue in '86.

The DHS orchestra, directed by Charles Emmons, continued to be one of the most active music organizations at DHS. In addition, to playing for various organizations, this group combined with Highland Park High School's orchestra to perform in concert. The orchestra's annual Spring and Winter concerts were just a few of their highlights throughout the year. The 1985-86 Orchestra, once again, had another eventful and enriching year which will definitely be continued in the future.

Groove To The Tunes

The 1985-86 Choraliers combined the top-notch singers and dancers into one of the most energetic and enthusiastic swing choirs ever at DHS. The talent demonstrated by the 6 seniors, 10 juniors, and 5 sophomores was combined into performances which were seen throughout the Chicago area. The dances were choreographed by different members to suit the wide variety of music that was sung. Their excellent reputation comes from their outstanding performances for businesses, restaurants, other schools and DHS's own student body. The professionalism seen in the group enabled the Choraliers to perform for President Reagan at Sara Lee. Although Advanced Chorus doesn't dance, they sure can sing. One notch below A Cappella, the Advanced Chorus continued to sing with confidence throughout the 1985-86 year. The amount of talent seen both in Choraliers and the Advanced Chorus indicates a promising future for the choral groups at Deerfield High School.

Ensemble Sounds

This year was one of the best ever for Deerfield High School's A capella Choir. Comprised of over 60 sophomores, juniors, and seniors, A capella performed for community organizations in addition to giving their winter and spring concerts. With a new director, A capella spent many hours developing music comprehension skills along with vocal training. The hard work and dedication shown by the entire choir provided a strong foundation for future A capella members to build on. Chorus 1,2 this year was comprised mainly of freshman girls. This group of beginning singers learned to sight read and count music as well as sing and work together in an ensemble. Chorus 1,2 traveled around Deerfield and took pride in sharing their talents with others at nursing homes, school concerts, and festivals. The enthusiasm demonstrated by this year's choral groups made 1985-86 a great year in the music department.

Fire 'Em Up

The spirit of the 1985-86 cheerleaders was established early in their summer camp. At the camp, the group received the award for "most spirited." This was definitely an indication of things to come. The squads carried their spirit to the football fields and basketball courts. Through rain and shine the girls were always there to cheer the Warriors on to victory.

This year there was a change in the arrangement of the squads. Instead of trying out for both football and basketball, they had the opportunity to choose one over the other, or both. This gave the squad added character, variety, and gave those who had conflicts a chance to show off their spirit when they were available. All of the squads took pride in their cheering which provided DHS with a most energetic and lively group of rah-rahs!!

Cheering 'Em On

The 16 smiling, spirited Kick Chicks of the Pom-Pon squad, led by captain Anny Deliyannis and co-captain Linda Slavin, worked hard to kick off a season full of pizzazz.

The first Pom-Pon event was the annual car wash held over the summer. Talk about splash! Next, the girls practiced during the summer preparing for their annual summer camp competition. Their first place victory granted them an invitation to the Midwest competition. Finally, the school season rolled around. The squad practiced at the crack of dawn every day to please the crowd. And the crowd was pleased, as everyone joined in "Greased Lightning" at the pep rally.

Because of their fun-loving style, the girls tried everything-from sun glasses to splashing in the rain. Such enthusiasm made the Pom-Pon squad one of the best ever.

More To Life . . .

During the '85-'86 school year, students found many ways to pass the time after the school day ended. Some of the more popular ways included, participating in extracurricular activities, going to the library to do homework, and just going home and collapsing until the next school day. But once again, the most popular after school activity was the part time job.

In their quest for some extra money, students could be seen rushing off to their jobs everyday after school. Students worked at such popular places as Northbrook Court, Deerbrook Mall, Deerfield Commons, and Bannockburn Green.

With these jobs, students were able to enjoy some extra benefits. These included extra spending money and money to save for college. A final great benefit of taking a part time job was making a lot of new friends. One working senior said, "Working has enabled me to save up for a new car. Even more importantly however, it has given me a chance to meet many exciting people."

Fabulous Fads

Deerfield took over as the fashion capital of the world this year. Many new styles and fashions were invented, bringing a great variety to the hallways of school.

The DHS guys made polos, Levis, and high-top, unlaced gym shoes popular once again. The argyle sweater also proved to be a classic style.

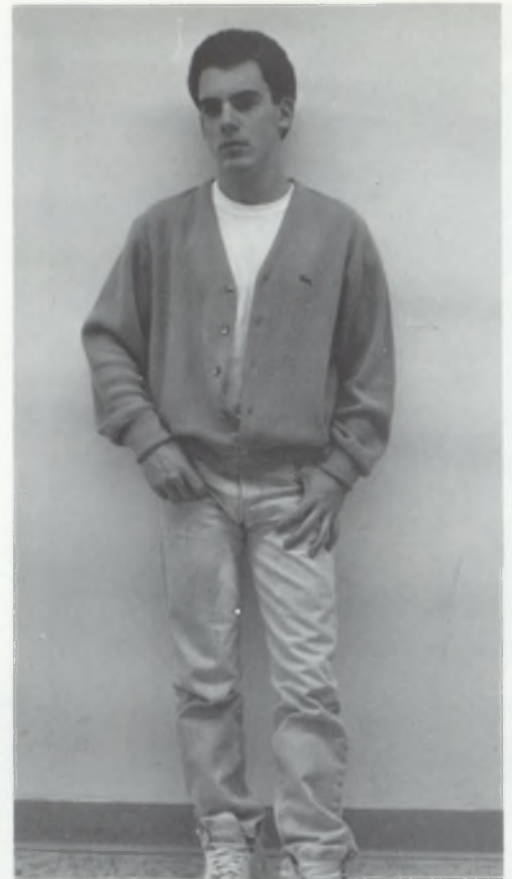

The DHS girls wore stretch pants with oversized paisley shirts, Reebok gym shoes, and rhinestone jewelry. Girls also borrowed sparkling brooches to wear on their sweaters or shirt collars.

Bears clothing and paraphernalia was especially hot during the football season. Both guys and girls modeled these fashions.

The most popular softdrink, Coca-Cola, experimented with several new products. In their attempt to overpower Pepsi, five new versions of Coke were introduced. Coca-Cola Classic remained the general favorite.

A joyous occasion, yet a sad one too,
 So anxious for college, our future we will pursue.
 A time to reflect on the memories we have shared,
 A realization of the people who have always cared.

The friends we have made will remain true in our hearts, even though college may split us apart.
 When we go to receive our diplomas graduation night
 A tear may flow as we are all filled with fright.

Four years of high school have passed by so fast,
 Yet in our minds all the good memories will last.
 The memories of the special boys and girls that we met,
 The ideas we shared and the goals that we set.

So many memories stored within our minds,
The people in our past we are leaving behind.
We are not letting them go, just saying good-bye,
Until we all come together again as the time flies by.

There are many places to go, many people to meet,
Many more accomplishments and tasks to defeat.
One last summer before we depart,
To college we go — to make a new start.

When thinking about junior year, many experiences come to mind. On that first day in August it became apparent that we were upperclassmen when we were allowed a whole locker to ourselves. Our schedules also reflected our transition to juniors — the absence of speech and health.

This year it was our turn to take the PSAT's, SAT's, and ACT's, which were feared by all. We all waited for our scores with baited breath because we realized the importance of them in determining which colleges would even think of accepting us.

Many privileges came with junior year, one of which was driving to school. There was, however, one catch. You had to come up with the best excuse possible to obtain one of those elusive parking permits. Another privilege was being allowed to delve into the depth of river life in the Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Speaking of classes that characterized junior year, U.S. History was an ... ummm ... "informative" one.

Now that we're through with our third year at DHS, we realize how much better it was than being sophomores, but we anxiously anticipate our senior year!

sophomore year is fun and exciting, everything going our way.
we're no longer clueless and new and believe me, we're here to stay.

we're no longer little "froshies," it's them who are teased, not us.
we never get lost, we're not at the bottom, and we practically never ride the bus.

being a sophomore makes you smarter, after spending a year being "new"
the friendships are strong, the friends are real,
there's nothing that we can't do.

winning the float on homecoming, winning our football game too.
stealing the spirit jug at the pep rally, going to the dance — staying out past two!

speech class and health class,
are symbols of sophomore year.
don't forget othello and odyssey, we're sad the end is near.

taking driver's ed. this year, certainly seems a waste of time.
but it's better than freshman advisory,
driving a car will be so fine.

next year as upperclassmen,
of course we'll be first rate.
but looking back on the memories, we'll think sophomore year was really great!!!

DEERFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

D. H. S. CALENDAR EVENTS

WELCOME TO
HOME OF THE WARRIORS

For A Time

God gave you to us, my son, for awhile
And I held you and rocked you and laughed when you'd smile.
You were a beautiful baby so alert and aware
With inquisitive blue eyes and soft downey hair.

For a time

With joy I watched you grow and talk and walk and then to run
And your days were full with discoveries and playing in the sun.
Your hair turned dark in color and freckles popped out with delight,
But you were still my little boy again when I tucked you in at night.

For a time

Soon soccer, friends and school filled the hours of your day
And you were known for your skill and charm and the pranks you'd always play.
With Irish eyes that twinkled you were a young man strong and quick
And we had such fun together on things no one else would pick.

For a time

You were a very special person who was truly set apart
By living first for others and by sharing from your heart.
I'm proud to be your Mother and until my life is done
May God keep His arms around you, until we meet again my son.

For all time

FRESHMEN FRESHMEN FRESHMEN

What did I feel when I entered Deerfield High School in the fall? Fear and frustration! And I wasn't the only one who felt that way. Every Freshman who was laughed at on the bus, tripped in the halls, and sent to the wrong rooms by upperclassmen was filled with feelings of anxiety and embarrassment. By the time we learned our way around the "enormous" school, Homecoming season was well on its way. The very idea of actually going to a dance with a date and dress clothes left us so scared our color on "color day" was white. Our 8:00 bed time was revealed at the Pep Rally, and our parent-chauffered station wagons that brought us to the dance were the talk of the upperclassmen. It seemed as if Freshmen were created and put upon this earth so the older students could get their daily laughs and always have someone near them to push around.

Think again.

What would this school be without us? No one would want to attend a school without "we the Freshmen." And what would this school be without our confused voices shouting "N Hall? Where's N Hall?" There would be no Freshman Football team. There would be no such classes as Freshmen English, Algebra, and the all time hit — Freshman Advisory. After a hard year, we've grown to realize that it just wouldn't be the same without us. We the Freshmen have made this school what it is today!

Administration

The year saw many changes in the Deerfield Administration. The major personnel changes involved the retirement of Miss Klinge, the naming of Miss Harvey as Assistant Principal, and the naming of Mr. Royer as the Dean of Students. Along with the changes in leadership, the "big five" instituted many changes in the running of the school.

The most apparent policies to emerge from the Deerfield hierarchy were the closed halls, tardy passes, and daily detentions. Although there was much student protest, the Administration felt the changes made significant improvements in the appearance of the school and in the attitudes of the students. An atmosphere more conducive to learning was the reasoning behind the changes. The Administration believes that although the changes were unpopular, the student body will soon appreciate the improved academics at Deerfield High School.

Take A Bow

Each year the O*YAD staff produces a yearbook to preserve the memories of a school year. Each staff has its own personality and sets its own goals. This year's staff decided early in the year that the preparation of the book was going to be fun and that creativity would be the theme for the book. The staff has attempted to involve as many talented students as possible, while creating a cohesive, eye pleasing book. This O*YAD staff hopes that you enjoy reading our book now and in the future as much as we have enjoyed putting it together.

In particular, the staff wishes to thank the editors of this yearbook who sacrificed their time and energy in order to create the special memories. They were: Howard Fishman, photography; Linda Slavin, copy; Anny Deliyannis, layout; and Alan Tannenbaum, Editor-in-chief. Assistant layout editors were: Marie Faro and Andrea Schultz; Assistant copy: Missy Bechler and Michele Krupp; Assistant Photography: Matthew Plofsky. We would also like to thank the section heads: Laura Josephson, Kim Link, Susan Catalano, Kate Poland, Jeff Seigal, Beth Levy, and Andrew Mann. Mike Radzin must also be recognized for keeping all the names and numbers straight in the index. A special thanks to Ray Knudson, our adviser, who has always kept us going forward.

The cover was designed and drawn by Steve Lencioni. The yearbook was printed by Jostens American Yearbook Company of Topeka, Kansas.

Some contributors were not pictured on our page. They are: Jamie Becchetti, Seth Kamber, Scott Edmond, and Julie Schotanus.
